

To the Year of 2020 Grads

Graduating in the time of COVIDs reign,
A time of masks and social distance,
A year of virtual learning,
With mixed emotions of joy, and fear.

We dreamed of walking across that stage,
Surrounded by friends,
Of tossing our caps up high,
But instead we found ourselves 6 feet apart.

Taken away by the virus rage,
This was no ordinary year,
But we learned to adapt and overcome,
And celebrate this milestone.

Holding memories close to our heart,
The proms and games we had,
Finding new ways to connect and thrive,
We gave it our very best.

We are the graduates of the pandemic age,
With value of perseverance and adaptability,
We set out on our journey ahead,
And we'll look back on this year with pride.

Congratulations, Class of COVID.
