

MILWAUKEE A GHOST TOWN

THEN AND NOW

A place near and dear to my heart,

Roaring with noise and people all over the City.

So much to do and so much to see,

Yet it brings me peace knowing this is where I grew up.

The buzz was deafening at times,

But it's the place I and many called home.

Covid 19 comes and changes life as we knew it.

Walking down the street with no one there,

Milwaukee has turned into a ghost town.

Stores and restaurants are shutting down,

So things to do are becoming less and less.

With a city so close to my heart,

It brings me to tears seeing what has happened.

Nobody knew covid 19 was coming,

So the country has paid for it during this pandemic.

But especially in Milwaukee I will never forget what it did to the place I called home.

- Ben Wilkin