

Dear journal

Today I had A gym class with my mom and my brother and sister. We had it outside but it was so cold. Once we started exercising though it warmed us up. First, we stretched and then we ran. At the end of class by learning how to Cardio Box. I didn't like it.

I am feeling a bit sleepy today. I think the extra exercise wore me out! Besides feeling sleepy I am happy. I was happy because I am safe in my house and away from the people with the virus.

That is how I survived the Covid-19.

Dear Journal,

The day I found out school was going to close was on a over the weekend . I was at home when I found out about school was closing. The last day I went to school we had a math test on unit 6. Then, Mrs.Brower made us take all of our stuff home including our iPads and keyboards.

I thought it was only going to be until April 6th, so I did not really care. I didn't think it was going to be very long. I was kind of excited to have some time off to be at home. Then, I found out that it extended until May I was sad because I don't like home school.

I feel pretty mad and sad because I miss my friends and miss being at school. I don't like having my siblings next to me while I learn and my mom and dad aren't great teachers.

Dear Journal,

Our first day of home school was on Tuesday, March 17th. The first day was the best but the other day's were just okay.

We started our day looking at our emails and writing in our agendas. Then, I had with math time. It was fun because I did Unit 6-1. We also had fun in art class. We did canvas art and I painted a bird's nest.

The best part of online learning is that I don't need to wake up super early or get dressed. I also enjoy being able to go outside during the day. The bad part is that my mom and dad get mad when we don't listen and aren't good.

Dear journal,

Every thing is closed except grocery stores, restaurants, healthcare, and banks and mail men. Almost every where you go that were listed YOU NEED A MASK. Restaurant are not letting you eat at the place but you can get the food to go and have them take it to your house.

Stores are not having all of their items. Some include food and supplies. We have to stay 6 feet apart if we go in a store and they have tape marks so you don't get too close in line.

Our neighborhood is quiet because no one is outside they are in their houses. When they go outside they have to be 6 feet apart

Dear Journal

Here are my top 3 things I will do when we can go to places and the quarantine ends. There's actually a lot more than three things but I will stick to three today.

First, I will see my friends. At my house I have a brother and sister and they are boring. I can't wait to have a friend come over to my house to play outside or on my Switch.

Next, I want To go to sport events. I miss watching sports. I can't believe there is no baseball this year.

Then, I will buy a lot of toys at a store because they will let me in. Now I am sad because I can't go to Any stores, only my mom or dad can.

Dear Journal,

My typical day looks way different now during the Coronavirus. I will start my day by waking up when the sun light goes on my bed. Then I go on the iPad And I wake up at 5:45. Then at 7 o'clock I get ready for school. A 9 o'clock we start our school day at home. Some days I start at 10 o'clock, too and work later.

We start our school day by doing math, then language, then made, then reading and finally writing.

And i eat at 5 o'clock then I go to bed at 8:30. And I don't over and over and over and over and over again and i am sick of it. I MISS NORMAL LIFE AND NORMAL SCHOOL AND MY FRIENDS AND ALL PEOPLE.

Dear journal

I am sad because there is no school until we are in 6th grade. Which is far away and is next school year. The good news is that I saw my class on a conference call. Yesterday I celebrated my mom's birthday. We sat outside at my grandparents house and ate cake at a distance.

Besides that, I've just been at home playing with my brother and sister. Sometimes we go outside and play near our neighbor friends.

That's how I survived Covid19.

Dear journal,

Today is a boring day because we have nothing to do but I have a story! This weekend me, my brother, sister and mom went on a bike ride. We went Sherman park and went on the trails. It was fun!

After the park, we decided to go to DeLong Middle School. On the way we had to ride through a tunnel which was scary! Then, we were almost there my brother's bike broke. My mom had to fix The chain that fell off. We turned around then and road back but his chain fell off again! We were lucky we made it home.
