The Eau Claire Teachers' College Band, formerly under the supervision of student directors, was this year under the supervision of Miss Ward. Because of the graduation of student directors, in 1926-1927, Miss Ward was finally induced to take charge, and it has, since then, been under her direction.

The band, although having two members less than last year, was about as active as ever, and played at games and mass meetings. Some of its members are very good musicians.
